

Cassandra Myers-Warner

March 10, 2015

Cassandra Myers-Warner of Albuquerque died peacefully, March 10, 2015, in the home she built with her husband and her dad. She was born November 28, 1953, in Findlay, Ohio to Norma Jean Nicholas Myers and Robert Evan Myers. Cassandra's Air Force family moved often throughout her childhood. She learned to swim in her grandfather's pool and went on to compete on the Great Falls Swim Team. She was named a Time Magazine Outstanding Youth Athlete for Montana, as well as a nationally ranked free-style long distance swimmer in high school. She earned an associate's degree in hotel management at Mesa Junior College, Grand Junction, CO, and met her husband while working at the front desk of the Fred Harvey Hotel in Albuquerque. She later completed her bachelor's degree in business administration at the University of Albuquerque and worked many years for Baxter Healthcare in Albuquerque and New Jersey. She was honored with a national award by the company in 1994. In 2000, Cassandra began a career with United States Investigation Services, researching workers' pasts for security clearances. Cassandra was an officer and longtime member of the New Mexico Townspeople, a club dedicated to the display of Department 56 little houses. She loved Christmas decorating and entertaining year-round. She was an enthusiastic tourist who enjoyed her trips with good friends. She was a voracious reader who appreciated history and was adamant about preserving our national treasures. Since 2002, Cassandra was a passionate member of The Daughters of the American Revolution. She was inducted as

New Mexico State Regent at the Washington, DC, Continental Congress in 2011. She served as the Charles Dibrell Chapter Regent and Northwest Region Director in the New Mexico State Organization of Daughters of the American Revolution.

She is survived by her husband, Joe W. Warner; her mother; her sisters: Cynthia Myers-Morrison and Candace Myers, all of Albuquerque; her step-children, Stacey Swanson of Norco, CA and Brad Warner of Garden Grove, CA; step-grandchildren, Shannon Ribeiro of Chesapeake, VA, Valerie Swanson of Norco, CA, and Scott Warner of Garden Grove, CA; her niece, Deidre Morrison of Shepherdstown, WV; her grandniece, Victoria Schaefer of Berkeley Springs, WV; her aunt, Claire Blurton of Reno, NV, and several cousins. Cassandra was grateful to Dr. Bernard Agbemadzo and all the wonderful nurses of the Presbyterian Oncology Clinic at Kaseman for their friendship and extraordinary care.

Memorial Services will be held Monday, March 16, 2015, 2:00 p.m., at FRENCH - Wyoming. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in her name to the President General's Project, National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington, DC (1776 D Street NW, Washington, DC 20006).

“ On behalf of the NM branch of Basket of Hope, I would like to express our deepest sympathies for your loss. Cassandra was SO gracious and generous in support of our mission, giving of her time, talent and energy to make pillowcases for the baskets we deliver to children with cancer at UNM Hospital.

We are so sorry for your loss. You are in our thoughts and prayers.

“ I have since moved to Toledo, Oh - not that far from Findley - but as my colleagues from USIS gather for the memorial service, I wish I could be among them to honor Cassandra's life and bring some comfort to her family. (you have no idea how hard it is to get a group of Investigators together in one place.)

It's hard not to think of Cassandra's larger than life personality, easy laugh, and that hair. As a coworker, she was so dedicated to our purpose, an absolute authority on the handbook, which she read from cover to cover (several hundred pages) annually, and a willing resource to anyone who needed help.

After her illness prevented her from working, she was fun to visit with when she was able. She was a great conversationalist from her full life of travel, work, and involvement in notable organizations. I brought her a blanket I'd made of warm flannel, which matched the colors in her beautiful hair. She gave me some flannel she'd bought with auto license plates from all over the country, which she'd thought of making into a lap robe for travel but never got around to it. I cherish that piece of material.

To her family and friends, my best wishes for the wonderful memories you'll have of the grand lady after sorrow has subsided. God bless you all.

“ She was a special person, who fought for years to stay with JW and her family against overwhelming odds. Her family fought for years to keep her with them. I never saw such love on both of their parts. Heroic.

My most remarkable memory was when she was ill and I was recovering from surgery, she brought a bouquet of flowers to me. Astounding.

When she was Regent of the Charles Dibrell Chapter of DAR, she had a serious surgery and left the hospital after the recovery room to attend the chapter meeting. She still wore her hospital wristlet.

Dedication.

She will not be forgotten by me.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Cassandra in the Baxter days and the privilege of calling her my friend. Though the Baxter days are long gone the memories are still fresh. Once you heard that laugh it is forever in your heart. Don and I spent many happy times at Cassandra & JW's lovely home – partaking in lively conversations, the wonderful food, admiring the decorations with all those little houses and Santa's and most of all enjoying the laughter. Time has separated us in the past few years but the friendship still remains and is cherished. Cassandra was one of a kind – the best kind.

Our thoughts & Prayers are with JW and the entire family.

“ There is almost no reason I should remember the brief point in time when Cassandra's and my lives intersected, and yet I do. About a decade ago, she visited me at my work location as part of her work for US Investigation Services; she was there to interview me as part of my security clearance update. Now, clearance interviews are usually a forgettable event, or even an unpleasant one. And, of all the other investigators with whom I have interacted, I can't recall a one. Yet Cassandra has stuck in my memory since then - not the details, but the overall impression. Besides information about my recent past, we might have discussed the fact that her family name and my Mother's family name were the same. Or possibly we compared notes on growing up in Ohio; I don't recall. It was Cassandra herself who made the impression; her professionalism and thoroughness, supported by both friendliness and enthusiasm, left me with the surprised feeling that I'd just had an enjoyable time and met an unforgettable person. Her passing is a true loss to all her family and friends.

“ I was deeply saddened to hear of Cassandra's passing. Cassandra was one of the most intelligent, hard-working people I have ever met. She was a tremendous help to me during our time as coworkers at USIS. Cassandra knew the OPM handbook better than anyone - I knew I could always depend on her to answer any question I had. She was an excellent Team Leader and Work Load Leader, but most of all, she was a true friend. Cassandra was so giving and had a big heart. She will be sorely missed. My deepest condolences to her family.

“ *To the Family and friends of Cassandra Warner:
What a wonderful woman, and one that I'm sure will sorely missed.
As a word of comfort, remember God's promise at Revelation chap
21 verses 4-5 where God promises to remove all sickness, death and pain. As you remember her in your prayers, pray also for God's Kingdom to Come!*

“ My thoughts and prayers go out for Cassandra and her family. I was blessed to have worked with Cassandra in her days with Baxter and have many special memories of her smile, her laugh and her steadfast dedication and determination to everything she put her hand to. Rest in Peace Cassandra, knowing that you touched many lives in a very positive way.
