“ Uncle Frank aunt Jo, Pat, Gerry, and Bill I am terribly sorry that I am not able to be there with you today, but I have you in my thoughts and prayers. We will all miss Chris so much! He was so funny he could keep a smile on everyones face just by being near him. I know that he has the angels in stitches right now telling them silly stories. With love, your nephew and cousin. “ "It is great to have friends when one is young, but indeed it is still more so when you are getting old. When we are young, friends are, like everything else, a matter of course. In the old days we know what it means to have them".....edvard grieg

“ Chris and I worked closely together at AT&T and quickly became good friends. It was hard not to: Chris had the unique ability to accept the positive in everyone and downplay the negative. He recognized your strengths and somehow managed to add to them. He always had something nice to say and was genuinely concerned about your struggles. I remember when he was retiring from AT&T - Chris stayed on another several weeks past his departure date to ensure that I was comfortable with what was left behind. I missed him as a coworker when he retired and now I'll miss him as my friend. Please know that my heart hurts with you

“ Chris was my first friend ever. We became friends in first grade and we remained friends all these years. Although he moved away, he always remained in my thoughts and memories. I'll miss you Chris...Words cannot express my sadness. May the comfort of God help your family through this very difficult time.

“ This world will be missing a lot of laughter with Chris leaving as such a young age. A whole lot of problems will probably go on never fixed with out his prying eyes and abilities. We will miss great attitude, the laughter and sometimes biting sense of humor. He could talk to anyone and figure out just about anything. Miss You Chris!

“ Please accept my deepest sympathy. The world has lost a wonderful smile and good guy. I worked with Chris in ATT and he was new to the company - but you could tell he would be around and contribute to the company and everyone he worked with. May God Bless him and his family.

“ There are some people in your life with whom you feel a wonderful affinity the moment you meet them. Chris Keene was one of those people. He made it easy for everyone to befriend, eagerly sharing himself and his perspectives, which made it easy for anyone to respond in kind. The countless friends of Chris in Maryland have the utmost love and respect for this fine man. We consider it an honor and privilege to know him and share a piece of his life among us.
