“ Ed was my very best friend from "Tot Time"....yes, that was pre-kindergarten until 8th grade. Our families lived a few blocks away in Downey, California. Ed's family and mine got together often. Our moms were best friends. Ed and I played Little League and basketball together all thru grade school. I lost track of Ed during high school and just reconnected 4 years ago at our grammar school reunion in California. We had been emailing each other the past 4 years and I didn't find out about Ed's passing until doing some research on line after I was unable to reach him by email or telephone. My last communication was an email from him in early February. What a great guy. Genuine. Caring. My condolences to his family....I will forever cherish our friendship. Rest in peace my friend.

“ As with Martin Wilson, Ed and I went to high school together and he was my dearest, truest friend. I spent countless hours sitting with him while he played guitar and talked about music or logging miles in his white Datsun as we tooted around town. We walked together at graduation; beautiful Ed with his long blonde hair. Ed and Martin played together at my wedding... Allman Brothers Blue Sky. Ed made me laugh, his laugh was big and hearty, he went to Saturday night mass with me and rescued me more times than I can count from an at times demanding home life. The last time we spent together was about 5 or 6 years ago while I was working for the summer in Santa Fe. We met several times for meals and catching up. He always has and always will hold a very sweet and tender place in my heart. I will miss him so. My heartfelt condolences to his family.

“ I've known Ed since 1974. We went to high school together, studied music together and were once roommates. Ed is, without question, my very best friend of all time. For many years we sort of lost contact, but reconnected a couple of years ago. I am so very thankful for the opportunity that we had to communicate once again. I met my wife Cathy because of Ed and some years later he was the best man in our wedding. I read below where someone commented on Ed's sense of humor -how very true- he could always find a way to make light of any situation. Ed was very caring, honest and unselfish...qualities that everyone should aspire to, but seldom achieve. A fantastic guitar player and recording engineer, he was an extremely talented guy.

My friend will be greatly missed!

“ I met Ed way back in 1982-1983 working together at the Golden Tee. Ed was a terrific guitarist and a great singer. We immediately clicked.

Later we worked together at a consumer electronics repair store- the most fun you could ever imagine at work. One particular woman customer was very demanding and got lawyers involved. She was impossible to please- always had a complaint about something. Ed and I were determined to make this customer happy. (note: this woman was very obese- more on that later!) We bent over backward for her. One day we did a service call to her house to re-install her repaired equipment. In an effort to be polite and chatty, Ed said to her, "Oh, you must be due any day now," Needless to say, the woman replied that she was not pregnant! Typical Ed!

At one point in our lives, we lived a few blocks away from each other. He called me to bring my banjo over and lay down a few tracks behind a singer he was recording for. Unfortunately, the singer was not very good. Each time I tried to lay down some background, Ed and I would just crack up and could not complete the track. We did this for 10-12 times at which point we decided to try another day. We just kept laughing.

That is what I remember Ed for- always laughing and finding humor in situations. There are other stories that I can't share- I will just share them with Ed now.

I will miss him very much- he was a very dear friend.
