“Dad, I think about you more and more often as the years go by, I feel sad that we didn't have more time than we did to experience life together. The older I get, the more I understand about this life and what it truly means. I still hold you in my heart, and I get to “see” you again someday.

“Nick, Sorry of your lose. Nick, you know you have a network of close friends in the Babcock family. Shay called me today and said he couldn't believe what the last three weeks have been like and he couldn't even be there for his mom or for you. Love you Nick, like PV2 Babcock told me Be Strong Grandma. Be Strong Nick.

“ My condolences to you for the loss of George. I had limited contact with him as a Matrix co-worker. He was always so willing and capable.

“ George was a very intelligent, creative, "VITAL"--person. As a young man he became a professional, highly-skilled welder which he pursued for several years--when a restless desire for something different---something MORE challenging--he decided to become a Physician's Assistant. He mastered the program and was just starting his new career when he struck down. I was amazed at his wealth of new found knowledge--and his desire to put it to use in helping others. (Oh--yes--and along the way he learned to fly an airplane--and enjoyed it immensely!) He was a unique, sensitive. loving person--we all will miss him!!

“ I was the team leader for Matrix while George worked for us. I met him in Scottsdale during his orientation and was immediately impressed by his warm and caring and positive attitude. It as a pleasure going with him on a joint visit. He expressed that he loved working with Matrix and wanted to continue on with us. He went out of his way for me, evening bringing me paperwork when I was running short one day. I will miss him very much and please know that he leaves a strong impression and positive memories with me during this short time I knew him. I will keep you all in my prayers. Sherri Musgrave, NP

“ Well George it was a pleasure to know and work with you even for the brief period it was. As a Physician Assistant I could tell you really wanted to do good in the world and help the people you came into contact with. The world will miss a person like you but I know you are in a better place now so again it was a pleasure George.

“ Lois, Jennifer, Nick, Josh, Karen, John, and Greg, we love you and know that God, your whole family, and all your friends will hold you close in their love, too. Be comforted by that and by knowing that you experienced the love and caring of an extraordinary man in your life. He has passed on to a new life experience, too young, but with wisdom gained from the great trials of his life here. His love lives on and you will feel it when you think of him. Be at peace and be thankful that he was and still is such an important part of your life.
