“ Jack was a mentor to so many people during his lifetime that he will be missed by thousands of people whose lives he touched. I worked for Jack twice in the 34 years I have known him and was always encourage by him to be a giver and not a taker. I live in California now but always visited Jack at Christmas time during my annual trek to NM to visit family, friends and take back enough green chile to get me through the year. When I visited Albuquerque last year, Jack was in Texas getting treatment and my visit went unfulfilled. His annual gift to me was his sage advice and willingness to share his life's experiences with me. I will miss those visits in his office and his keen insight into people and world events. They don't make men like Jack Price often and he will be missed by me.

“ I am very sorry to hear the news about Jack's passing. However, I am very pleased I had the opportunity to get to know Jack during our NADA visits together to Volkswagen Headquarters in Auburn Hills, MI. If you ever wanted to know what was happening in the Volkswagen world, Jack could clearly tell you in 25 words or less. I liked that about him. Additionally, his wit was contagious. As a matter of fact upon seeing him after some time had gone by between visits, a near automatic smile would come to my face as I knew the upcoming conversation would quickly become fun. What a fun person to spend time with. He was always down-to-earth in his thinking and conversation. If we had more people on the planet like Jack Price, life would take a turn for the good. My sincerest thanks for having the chance to know such a fun guy! Best to all of you who knew Jack! Sincerely, Larry Mullen

“ My sincere condolences to all of Jack's family. I had the pleasure of knowing Jack as a friend and as a customer of Chase Bank. I also had the pleasure of golfing with him several times. During one of our outings, Jack and I discovered that years ago, we'd worked for the same Finance Company....BIC Loans out of Hutchinson, Kansas. I live in Phoenix but I definitely would have attended his services but I just found out about his passing. I will remember Jack as a really neat guy and a true gentleman from the old school.

“ Looking back on the years I worked with Jack we frequently found success, rarely were at odds and always had fun no matter the situation. He was that rare combination of an astute businessman, loving husband, wonderful father and great friend to so many. As will so many others, we will miss him greatly.

“ Kay, Randy, and Family: In these many years we've known Jack and all of you, your friendship has been a blessing to us. There have been so many times that Jack quietly reached out to help us and, with that inimitable twinkle in his eye, watched to see if we would be all right and if there was more that he could do to help. From the times he delivered keys to Virginia at her locked, still running car or transported her to the ER when that trip was needed, to all of the fishing trips Jack and I enjoyed together -- sometimes just the two of us, and sometimes with a larger group of friends -- or his occasional visit to our garage for a bolt, tool, or whatever, Virginia and I will always remember and be thankful for our time with Jack and all of you. To us, Jack's presence in our lives is a blessing. We will remember Jack always and be thankful for our times together and our memories of him. God bless you all and thank you, God, for Jack in our lives.
