“ Our family has had so many wonderful memories that we built with Lynn. Our Red River fishing adventure, Science Olympiad Nationals trips, camping in the Jemez, City of Rocks where Lynn organized the Easter egg hunt, Rock hunting north of Albuquerque, and more. Our surprise when Sam & Nathan won the state Compute this when they thought they had done so poorly. I still remember Lynn's squeal and laughter when they won. We had such a memorable trip to Florida and Georgia and our tacked on Disney trip with the Millers, Pam & I were so sick with the flu but Lynn graciously packed up our boys each day to cart them to Disney World and Epcot in the pouring, pouring rain so they would have a fun memory with the Millers. Lynn was always the organizer and planned the hotel and trip details, and coupons and sandwiches and whatever was needed to make our times together exciting but with a decidedly practical grounding.

I remember spending so many late night chats with Ken & Lynn before the boys were born and after. Talking about the Lord. Talking about jobs and stress. Talking about the future and how we hoped to raise and train all our boys.

Lynn always maintained high standards for behavior and character and her love of the Lord and she has left her mark on our whole family.

We miss you Lynn.

Ken, Nathan, Andrew, and Matthew - know we praying for you and want to help in whatever ways we can.

“ I remember Lynn's sweet spirit when she would come and work during school and summer breaks at Speedy Printing in El Paso; in her quiet way, she went about doing whatever was assigned to her without complaining. She was always so pleasant to be around and never had a bad word about anyone. She was truly a beautiful young woman and became an amazing mom, wife and daughter.

“ Lynn was always one of first people to arrive at Awana. Her steady organized manner was well appreciated by many. Also, the boys always helped with sweeping the gym floor and many other cleaning tasks. Their willing attitudes and smiles while they worked is something she instilled in them. She will be greatly missed.

“ We first met Lynn when she was a bridesmaid at our daughter, DeAnna's wedding to her brother, Davant. She was beautiful and radiant and full of God, which she remained until she went Home. Her family will deeply miss her, but join together celebrating her life. We send our love and prayers.
