“ The loss of Marge on Penelope Place definitely took some of the laughter and character from Penelope Place. The families on this little street in Albuquerque who preceded her in death (Beckstroms, Glens, C. Davis, K. Livingston) all would agree. Marge could add laughter to any gathering with stories about her life and work. She delivered delicious rum cakes to the neighbors at Christmas, she always shared big bunches of flowers given to her by a friend who worked at a florist, and she was first to take care of a neighborhood problem. Her kindness, generosity and laughter will be so missed. She was a wonderful neighbor.
