“ I am very saddened with the loss of my Uncle Neil...I have always had a soft spot in my heart for this man, he was my God Father after all...One of my first trips home from the Air Force was spent at their house on the South Side of Fort Wayne Indiana watching an Hoosier victory over a couple of beers. I have cherished that visit ever since. Uncle Neil was a loving husband and father who will be sorely missed. I have fond memories of our many trips together whether it be to Fairfield Glade in Tennessee or a cross country trip to New Mexico or just a casual trip to see them on Barton Lake. It was always fun and interesting when it came to him! I am praying for my Aunt Birdie and Cousin Shawn, along with the rest of the family to have the strength they need to move forward. May they take solace in knowing that he is no longer suffering and is a better place. We love you Uncle Neil... You have taken your rightful place alongside our Nana and Gramps in the Heavens... May you rest in peace. Cheers agus Beers Uncail Neil, beidh muid chailleann tú! Go dtí go gcasfar le chéile sinn arís ... Shine ar tú Diamond dÚsachtach! Love, Your Nephew and Fam in Oklahoma...

“ To say I'm going to miss Uncle Neil would be an understatement. I'm so glad I had the time I did with him before & after the wedding. Knowing that he was able to spend some time with Mark & Jocelyn and get to know them and see the reason I was so happy brings me a sense of comfort. I know our entire family will miss him more than any words could ever begin to express. He was loved so much by all of us. He was kind, caring, compassionate, the list really does go on and on. Our family will never be the same without him...but, he will live on in our hearts forever. He will be there just like Grandpa & Mom still are...and always will be. He lives on in the stories we tell. He will forever reside in our laughter & silence, the craziness & the calm, and the memories we share & hold close just for ourselves. He is forever etched on our hearts & in our minds. I will treasure those moments with him...always. Rest Well Uncle Neil...I Love You!!
