“ My thoughts and prayers to Normans family. I knew Norman since way back in the 70's. He was always a gentleman, very caring , sincere and loving. My sister, Tish and I were able to visit Norman the day before he left to San Antonio. Knowing that we were saying our last good byes was very heartbreaking. He is in a better place , and rid of pain and suffering.

“ Words cannot express the loss we have endured. And I Promise you will never be forgotten. It meant the world to us to be by your side everyday so we could see your face and hear your voice. The Memory of the late night prayers with your Grandson King will always be cherished. The lovely conversations you and I had about life, marriage and parenthood were definetly heart warming. We will miss you dearly... Until we meet again. Your daughter in law Valerie Gallegos

“ Norman and I worked together several years ago. The owner of the company had no idea of how to treat people or sales in particular. One day Norm turned to me and said "If they didn't own the company...what would qualify them to run it?" We both looked at each other and, burst out laughing.

He was a very good guy and I value knowing him and the times we shared.

My prayers to the family for the tremendous loss.
