“ You always brought such happiness with you wherever you were. You lit up a room with the warmest love possible. That love is forever in our hearts, and your light burns brightly with the stars. Happy memories are all that we have of you now and any time someone thinks of you I know that you're smiling back. You'll be seen again and the warmth you brought with you is always with us. Burn forever bright! You will never be forgotten <3

“ Little baby raeleigh, I never really knew you, but i heard tons of stories. getting to hold u was a joy of its own. you were truely a blessing of your own you knew how to light up a dark room and put smiles on everyones face. you were perfect. 🙌?? and nobody can say different. what happened to you was a nightmare. nobody and no family should have to ever live through that. but the best die young 😊 and you were truely an angel yourself. see you werent given a good father so that could be one reason God Took you sooner! Your Mom was amazing tho. He want to show you who the real father was and the father love u prolly would of never discovered. he had big plans for you and his plans were much bigger than any of us would kno. your a blessing and a lesson. you taught everyone in your family how muh they love each other and how much they need to cherish the time they had together! you will be missed and never forgotton! ❤️

“ On behalf of the Martinez family, we send our condolences. Adrian Martinez was the father figure in her life and had a unique bond with Raeleigh. She is with Our Lord now worshipping Him with amazement. What a blessing she was, and always a reminder of the joy God gives us through the people we love. Our prayers are with the whole family <3

“ I was present the day she arrived to our world. The most precious of gifts. She was and is beauty, and will always be. She will be missed beyond imagination. Although she is lucky to be in heaven, watching over us and waiting for us to join her once again. She will also watch over the cat Locuten, also in heaven, and awaiting our arrival to ask her "what was she thinking!"
I love all of you and hold you all in my heart and prayers. My family.
