“ On July 15th, 2011 my husband Chris and I arrived at our new home in two U-haul trucks packed with all our stuff. We can all relate to the joy of moving from one state to another and not knowing a soul. We were trying to get our stuff unpacked on this very hot and miserable day. But to our pleasant surprise, this very handsome gentleman is walking up to introduce himself to us and shortly there after, out comes his beautiful wife Karen. Little did we know how lucky we were to have such wonderful neighbors. Little did we know that we would adopt each other as family. From that day forward we spent countless holidays and evenings together.

Ron was a very intelligent man. But yet Ron had a quick wit and a great sense of humor!!

For instance, when we would go over to their house, Ron would play "PRINCE", just because he knew that it irritated the hell out of Chris... On the other hand when Ron would come to our house to visit, Chris would turn on the "BLUEGRASS", music for him, all the while knowing Ron was just as irritated. When Ron couldn't stand it anymore he would ask Chris to change the music. Chris did so quickly, in order to keep Ron from racing home. However, Ron would almost never change the music for Chris. When he did so on occasion, he would put Chris's second most hated musician "MICHAEL JACKSON" on. Ron also made sure that Chris got a good dose of disco music as well. Believe us, there was constant laughter throughout his home.

Ron was also a family man. He cherished his beautiful wife Karen of forty-one years. He was constantly bragging on his four children, Kelly, Bradley, Amy and Michael. He was always pulling out pictures and calendars of his beautiful daughter-in-law Jennifer and granddaughters Angela and Payton. He also expressed his love for his siblings Larry, Ken and sister Marcia.

Ron was a very handsome man. Ron had a full crop of beautiful grey hair and piercing beautiful blue eyes. He had a wonderful sense of compassion for his family, employee's, friends and neighbors. Ron possessed a quality that many of us do not. Ron was an excellent listener!!! Then he would smile at you and give you some words to comfort you to make you feel better. Believe us, we talked his ears off on several occasions.

Finally, I would like to say that Ron was an animal lover... When we moved in we had two old dogs Spot and Freckels. Ron would go out every morning and evening and spoil them rotten with treats and left overs. He would pet them and praise them and help care for them when we would leave town. Ron loved his cat "Phoebe", of sixteen years. For those of us that have had the pleasure of meeting "Phoebe", you would know that she can turn into a fierce lioness. Phoebe is very protective over Ron and Karen. The hair will stand up on her back and she will hiss at you and show her teeth. Luckily she puts up with Chris and I. One funny story I recall is when Ron and Karen invited our dog Freckels over to their patio. Phoebe came running out the back door hissing and all bowed up that the dog was on her patio. Poor Freckels tucked tale and ran whimpering the whole way back to the house. Ron had an extraordinary love of nature and wildlife. He would go the extra mile to help the birds, the rabbits and the coyotes. During the drought in New Mexico his wildlife always had water to drink.

To the family, Chris and I feel your loss! To Ron, you will be dearly missed by everyone that was lucky enough to have known and loved you.

Ron used to always recite a little jingle to the people he loved! Here it goes Ron. I hope I don't mess it up.

"Here's to ya and for ya and to ya again, if I hadn't have met ya, I wouldn't have let ya, but I'm glad that I met ya and I'm glad that I let ya and I would do it all over again"....

Ron, may you rest in peace our dear friend and neighbor!

“ Ron.... Although, we have not cross paths in a long while, my found memories of you are clear as a can be... I only wish I could have seen you once more before we parted ways on this earth, but I hope to see you again someday in a better place. You will always be in my thoughts.. Love, Lil-Brother Ken, with Heide & Emma...

“ Ron; my baby brother.....for a while; family understands. While 5 years difference is a little awkward it has no effect on love, having each other's back or sharing what needs to be shared. Ron bounding down the stairs to head to school, me to Diebold. Pulling an all nighter on a Friday while I moonlighted at his office. These and many others; irreplaceable memories indeed! Always just a phone call away regardless of the miles to share some of Dad's old but very cool jokes along with issues of life. Missed severely! Brother Larry, with sister in law Ev.

“ I will miss seeing Ron when I walked out to get our mail in the boxes in front of his house. We had several conversations on a variety of subjects and I appreciated his insight. He and Karen were the first people we met when we moved to La Luz Circle and they made us feel welcome. Greg and Margie Poage.
